Registration at 3:30pm
Diver Down at 4:00pm

How does this work?

It's straight forward really. There's a dumpster filled with water and people give money to Save the Catwalk, through you, to see you jump in!

You know at least a few people who would LOVE to see you do this. In fact, they're willing to put their money where their mouth is to see you do it.

Or better yet, convince a friend or coworker. Say, "Hey John, we're going to raise ($50, $500, $5000, whatever you want to say here or let them pick the number) to see you do the Winterfest Dumpster Dive. When we hit that goal, you have to jump in!" Your boss would love to do this. Ask them at a really crowded company meeting!

Is there a minimum amount I need to raise in order to dive?

No, absolutely not. Every dollar counts. Having fun and supporting the community is what matters!

How do I get the money?

That's up to you. Here are a few ways:

- Ask your friends, family, and co-workers to write a check to Save the Catwalk. Bring the checks to the event.
- Collect cash by having a jar, or manila envelope, at the shop or office. Then write Save the Catwalk a check for the amount you collected. Bring the check to the event.
- If you'd like, you can use the pledge sheet to keep track of who gave and how much. It can also track commitments and credit card payments. You don't have to use it though.
- If you have people who want to donate via credit card, they go to <https://winterfestmi.org/dumpster-dive-donation/> and enter your name and the donation amount.

Where do I go, what do I need, and what's it going to be like?

You go to the Harbourfront Parking Lot at 41 Washington Ave. Look for the bonfires. Hard to miss, really. Bring a towel, change of clothes, and a can-do attitude. You can change clothes in the Harbourfront Building. The water is cold. That's kind of the point. It's going to be fun. You'll be awesome!
